

J. L. H. THOMAS : (A) PUBLISHED PHILOSOPHICAL WRITINGS

1. 'Réalité et notalité, ou Dé-penser par les signes' in Revue de théologie et de philosophie 115 (Geneva, Lausanne, Neuchâtel, 1984) pp.29-43.
2. 'Approaching Philosophy: (i) What Philosophy is Not; (ii) A Sign to the Wise is Enough' in The Philosopher (Newcastle upon Tyne) Spring 1986 pp.17-22; Winter 1986-7 pp.12-18.
3. 'The Identity of Being and Essence in God' in The Heythrop Journal XXVII (London, 1986) pp.394-408.
4. Sentences & Slogans: A selection of one hundred Aphorisms composed by J. L. H. Thomas and published by the Author (Haydon Bridge, 1989: ISBN0-9514234-0-1) pp.vi + 22, price £10.
5. English translation of the Introduction and Chapter IV-IVA of Hegel's Phenomenology of Spirit in Selections from Hegel edited by M. J. Inwood (New York, 1989: ISBN0-02-359722-4), pp.152-160 & 168-180.
6. 'The Schoolman's Advocate: In Defence of the Academic Pursuit of Philosophy' (prize essay of the Mind Association 1988) in Mind 98 (Oxford, 1989) pp.483-506. Partly reprinted in The Times Higher Educational Supplement 927 (London, 10 August 1990) p.13, under the title 'Impure Spirits and Thoughts of Attachment'.
7. 'Why did it happen to me?' in Religious Studies 26 (Cambridge, 1990) pp.323-334.
 7a. 'Почему это случилось со мной?' [Russian translation by N. Roumiantseva, Ya. Morozov, and others of 'Why did it happen to me?'] in Вестник Русской Христианской Гуманитарной Академии [Bulletin of the Russian Christian Academy of the Humanities] 6 (St Petersburg, 2005) pp.288-307.
8. Review of The Idea of Absolute Music by Carl Dahlhaus in Music & Letters 72 (Oxford, 1991) pp.89-92.
9. 'Against the Fantasts' in Philosophy 66 (Cambridge, 1991) pp.349-367.
10. 'Philosophers Come to the Surface: The 1991 Joint Session in Durham' in Philosophy Now 3 (Ipswich, 1992) pp.31-34.
11. 'Philosophers in Workaday Form' [The 1992 Joint Session in Reading] in Philosophy Now 4 (Ipswich, 1992) pp.34-38.
12. 'Grand Philosophy Quiz' in Philosophy Now 5 & 6 (Ipswich, 1993) pp.34-35 & 35.
13. Review of Das Tier in der Moral by Ursula Wolf in Between the Species 9 (Berkeley, Winter 1993) pp.52-55.
14. En quête du sérieux: Carnets philosophiques (Éditions du Cerf, Paris, 1998: ISBN2-204-05653-7) pp.152, price 26€ = 170,55 FF.
 14a. En busca de la seriedad: Cuadernos filosóficos [Spanish translation, with a foreword, of En quête du sérieux: Carnets philosophiques by Juan Miguel Palacios] (Ediciones Encuentro, Madrid, 2002: ISBN84-7490-647-4) pp.158, price 11,54€.
15. 'Begründer einer modernen Ethik. Eine persönliche Würdigung des Philosophen Ernst Tugendhat' in Tribüne 179 (Frankfurt am Main, 3. Quartal 2006) pp.172-184.
16. 'My interview with Heidegger' in The Philosopher CV, 1 (Spring 2017) pp. 8-13.
17. 'A Philosophers' Quiz : Famous last words' ibid. p. 24.
18. 'Philosophers as Latter-Day Casuists', a review of Philosophers Take on the World, edited by David Edmonds, in The Expository Times 129 (2017) pp. 139-40.

(B) PUBLISHABLE PHILOSOPHICAL WRITINGS

1. 'Man as a Sign' [a paper of 2,000 words presented to the XVIIIth World Congress of Philosophy in Brighton in 1988].
2. 'Nineteenth-Century Conceptions of the State: Bentham and the Mills, Hegel and Marx' [the revised text in c.13,800 words of a two-part lecture delivered privately in Hexham, Northumberland, in 1988 and publicly in Newcastle upon Tyne in 1990].
3. 'Three Viennese Thinkers: Mach, Brentano, Freud' [the revised text in c.12,300 words of a public lecture delivered in Newcastle upon Tyne in February 1990].
4. 'A visit to Königsberg-Kaliningrad, recalled on the bicentenary of Kant's death 12 February 2004' [an account in c.2,800 words of a visit in July 1988].
5. 'Philosophy as Study and Skill' [a prologue of c.5,100 words to an unpublished collection of ten pieces comprising A3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, & 13, & B2 & 3, above].
6. 'Examen des Douze preuves de l'inexistence de Dieu de Sébastien Faure' [a critical study in c.2,800 words of a book first published in 1914 and republished in 2004].
7. 'The Meaning of Life' [a résumé in c.2,000 words of a talk given to the Newcastle Philosophy Society in January 2007].
8. 'Quelques réflexions philosophiques sur l'intuitionnisme mathématique suscitées par le colloque de Cerisy-la-Salle en juin 2007 dans l'esprit d'un participant profane' [c.2,600 words].
9. 'Quelques pensées sur le sens de l'histoire et sur son interprétation au colloque de Cerisy-la-Salle en septembre 2008 offertes par un philosophe forain' [c.2,700 words].
10. Nine Wise Words: Brief studies of the origin, import, and validity of nine traditional sayings embodying some supposed philosophical truth with an appendix of illustrative passages drawn from the best authors [nine essays totalling c.10,700 words].
11. Тезисы и Девизы. Сто философских афоризмов [Russian translation by N. Roumiantseva and Ya. Morozov of A4 above].
12. 'A Philosopher's Thoughts on the RGS' [a reflexion upon education in c.2,900 words].

(C) PUBLISHED NON-PHILOSOPHICAL WRITINGS

1. 'Obituary : Joseph Segal' in The Strad vol.103 no.1225 (London, May 1992) p.456.
2. 'Von der Spree zum Tweed : Ein Liebestraum des 18. Jahrhunderts geht bildlich in Erfüllung' in Deutsches Adelsblatt 41. Jg. Nr. 11 (Kirchbrak, 15 November 2002) pp.287-90.
3. 'The inscription in French on the Powder Room window pane of Paxton House', in the History of the Berwickshire Naturalists' Club, vol.51, part 3 (2010) pp.159-62.
4. 'Sophie von Brandt (1731-1782): Muse of Paxton House?' in the History of the Berwickshire Naturalists' Club, vol.52, part 1 (2011) pp.24-30.

(D) PUBLISHABLE NON-PHILOSOPHICAL WRITINGS

1. Joseph Segal as a Violin Teacher [a systematic exposition of the ideas on the playing and teaching of the violin of the late Joseph Segal (1924-1991), forming an A4 volume of 300 pages, comprising nearly 50,000 words of main text, some 15,000 words of appendices, four diagrams, a score of photographs, and 900 musical examples].

J. L. H. T., 23. 2. 2018