CLASSICAL STUDIES I

Candidates should answer THREE questions, ONE from Section A, and TWO from Section B

Section A

Answers to Question 1 will be marked on both accuracy and elegance of the translation. Answers to Questions 2 and 3 should display close knowledge of primary non-textual material.

EITHER:

1. Translate the following passage into English:

Longinus, De sublimitate 44.6-9

OR:

2. In Greek art, what is a portrait?

OR:

3. What needs to happen before we can write an account of the archaeology of the Greek economy?
Section B

4. Have the Homeric poems helped or hindered our understanding of the archaeology of the period 1200–700 BC?

5. How far does the evidence for paint change our response to Greek buildings and their sculptured decorations?

6. Does the distribution of Greek painted vases suggest that Athenian potters and painters knew or cared about specific overseas markets?

7. What can Greek temples tell us about both regionalism and pan-Hellenism?

8. Does the study of fifth-century BC history concentrate excessively on political systems?

9. Can we trace any changes in Mediterranean connectivity between 550 and 350 BC?

10. What effect did Alexander’s conquests have on the economy of the Mediterranean world?

11. Can we make a case for intertextuality in archaic Greek poetry?

12. Wilamowitz believed that the goal of modern textual criticism should be the reconstruction of the Alexandrian edition of ancient Greek authors: ‘all the rest is mere play’ (Spielerei). Is it?

13. What, if any, the contribution of cognitive studies to classics?

14. Greek pantheon: kosmos or chaos?

15. What are the most significant contributions to Homeric studies in the last thirty years?

16. ‘Inconsistencies in belief are not just an inevitable flaw of all religions, but actually a means whereby belief is maintained’ (THOMAS HARRISON). How does this apply to Greek religious discourse?

17. What do archaic Greek inscriptions tell us about the early history of Greek?

18. How can we account for the centrality of the hermeneutic and aesthetic issue of the persona and the address in lyric poetry more generally?

19. What is a μῦθος for Plato?

20. How did Greek civic culture respond to Roman rule?
CLASSICAL STUDIES II

Candidates should answer THREE questions, ONE from Section A, and TWO from Section B

Section A

Answers to Question 1 will be marked on both accuracy and elegance of the translation. Answers to Questions 2 and 3 should display close knowledge of primary non-textual material.

EITHER:

1. Translate the following passage into English:

principium iure tribuetur homini, cuius causa videtur cuncta alia genuisse natura magna saeva mercede contra tanta sua munera, non ut sit satis aestimare, parens melior homini an tristior noverca fuerit. ante omnia unum animantium cunctorum alienis velat opibus. ceteris sua varie tegimenta tribuit, testas, cortices, coria, spinas, villas, saetas, pilos, plumam, pinnas, squamas, vellera; truncos etiam arboresque cortice, interdum gemino, a frigoribus et calore tutata est: hominem tantum nudum et in nuda humo natali die abicit ad vagitus statim et plorat, nullumque tot animalium aliud ad lacrimas, et has protinus vitae principio; at Hercule risus praecox ille et celerrimus ante xl diem nulli datur.

5. Did Roman technology show any appreciable advance over Hellenistic technology?

6. What harm has the lack of images in the original CIL project done to the study of Latin epigraphy?

7. Does the study of past climate change provide useful explanations for historical events, or is it merely a reflection of present concerns?

8. What would an account of the Punic Wars from a Carthaginian viewpoint look like?

9. Does Social Network Analysis really have anything to offer the Roman historian?

10. What were Roman professional associations for?

11. Rehabilitate ‘Romanization’.

12. Can we speak of Roman linguistic imperialism?

13. ‘The problem of Roman myth and myth-making is its absence from, or marginality to, the central arenas of Roman culture’ (MARY BEARD). Discuss.

14. ‘Inconsistent passages in a poem should not be emended or explained away, but should be interpreted’. Discuss with reference to at least two Latin texts.

15. Can we speak of a distinct Ovidian anthropology in the Metamorphoses?

16. Is Cicero a Roman Plato?

17. ‘One reason the Roman empire succeeded as well as it did … is that it created, in large part through its literary system, a Roman nation’ (THOMAS HABINEK). Discuss.

18. ‘For Seneca, literature is politics by other means.’ Do you agree?

19. ‘Roman historiography never rose to the level of synchronic history but mainly concentrated on human actors and their habits, or mores.’ Is this a fair assessment?

20. ‘In textual criticism the only good rule is that there are no rules’ (DAVID ROY SHACKLETON BAILEY). Discuss.

21. Cassius Dio (55.3.4-5) wrote of the Latin word auctoritas: ‘To translate it into Greek by a term that will always be applicable is impossible.’ Discuss.

2. Latin

Saepemel numero civitatis nostrae principes audio culpantis modo agrorum infecunditatem, modo caeli per multa iam tempora noxiam frugibus intemperiem, quosdam etiam praedictas querimoniales velut ratione certa mitigantis, quod existiment ubertate nimia prioris aevis defatigatum et effetum solum nequire pristina benignitate praebere mortalibus alimenta. Quas ego causas, P. Silvine, procul a veritate abstes certum habeo, quod neque fas est existimare Rerum Naturam, quam primus ille mundi genitor perpetua fecunditate donavit, quasi quodam morbo sterilitate affectam, neque prudentis credere Tellurem, quae divinam et aeternam iuventam sortita communis omnium parens dicta sit, quae et cuncta pepererit semper et deinceps paritura sit, velut hominem consensisse. Nec post haec reor violentia caeli nobis ista sed nostro potius incidere vitio, qui rem rusticam pessimo cuique servorum velut carnifici noxae dedimus quam maiorum nostrorum optimus quisque et optime tractaverat.

Atque ego satis mirari non possum quid ita dicendi cupidi seligant oratorem cuius imitentur eloquentiam, mensurarum et numerorum modum rimantes placitae disciplinae consectentur magistrum, vocis et cantus modulatorum nec minus corporis gesticulatorum scrupulosissime requirant saltationis ac musicae rationis studiosi; iam qui aedificare velint fabros et architectos advencent, qui navigia mari concredere gubernandi peritos, qui bella moliri armorum et militiae gnaros, et ne singula persecur, ei studio quod quis agere velit consultissimum rectorem adhibeat, denique animi sibi quisque formatorem praecipitoremque virtutis e coetu sapientum aressat: sola res rustica, quae sine dubitatione proxima et quasi consanguinea sapientiae est, tam dissentibus egeat quam magistris.

Columella, De Re Rustica 1.Praef.1-4
